Spring 2010

How to get the grade you want:

- A Clearly understand the ideas, and almost always get the answer.
- B Understand the main ideas, and usually get the answer.
- C Understand some of the main ideas, and often get the answer.
- D Vaguely understand some of the main ideas, and sometimes get the answer.
- F None of the above.

How I tell:

20% Homework

35% Midterm exam

45% Final exam

People who actively engage in discussion in class or during office hours will earn special consideration when I assign course grades.

Late homework will be accepted up until the due date of the following assignment, but will be reduced in credit by 50%.

I will give you a make-up exam only if I judge your absence to be due to good cause. Where appropriate, I will expect documentation. Make-up exams may be oral exams. If you know in advance that you must miss an exam, please let me know in advance.
